Dmitri Matheny flugelhorn
Nick Manson piano
Justin Grinnell bass
Duncan Moore drums

Celebrated for his warm tone, soaring lyricism and masterful technique, Dmitri Matheny was first introduced to jazz audiences in the 1990s as the protégé of Art Farmer. Matheny has since matured into "one of the jazz world's most talented horn players" (SF Chronicle).

Sagebrush Rebellion, Matheny's tenth album as a leader, is scheduled for international release August 9, 2014 on the Papillon/Blue Port Jazz label. The quartet recording showcases new originals, jazz classics by Johnny Burke and Duke Ellington, and favorite works by Charlie Haden, Steve Swallow and Nat Adderley.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Relaxed, cool jazz in the tradition of Miles Davis, Art Farmer and Chet Baker.
- A graduate of the famous Berklee College of Music, Matheny has cultivated a strong, loyal following for his performances throughout North America, Europe and Asia.
- Matheny's previous 9 releases have garnered critical acclaim and topped national jazz charts.
